Seton F.I.R.S.T. 2007 UPDATE!!!

Seton Middle School FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology)07 Team is looking for Students to assist in solving the 2007 Power Puzzle challenge. Currently there are 3-4 openings left on the 2007 team. If you are interested in filling those remaining openings let Mrs. Ahles or Ms. Bausom know as soon as possible. There are 6 confirmed team members and FIRST rules state you are only able to field a team of 10. We will target 10 with an alternate for 2007.

Seton FIRST 07 is an innovative problem solving team looking for talented students to work through unique challenges. Each year FIRST challenges students across the country with science and technological problems. It will be up to you and your fellow students to solve these challenges in a fun and creative manner. The 2007 challenge will be announced on September 5th. The first official meeting will be Saturday September 8th from 9:00 am to 11:30 in the Seton Science lab.

Parents:

The 2007 challenge presents real world questions for your student to research, analyze and solve. It requires a fair amount of time and energy to field a successful team. The ultimate goal for everyone is inspiration and recognition while having fun. FIRST is much more than building Lego's. It is a challenge to inspire your students mind while working as a team to solve fun and exciting puzzles.

We would ask that parents attend the first part of the September meeting. Students, who have not turned in a bio, please do so A.S.A.P. or bring it to the first day of school.
