

Kindergarten News

For the week of October 31st-November 4th

- Our child of the week was Quinn. We had a great time with the story telling activity. Watch for our class book to come home.
- Our letter this week was Hh. We met Mr. H who has happy hair and is very handsome.
- Our red word this week is for. You will notice in your Friday folders that the first seven red words have come home for the end of the quarter. Students should be able to read and spell these words.
- In your Friday folder you will find a blank copy of the Kindergarten report card. We do not send home report cards for the first quarter however it is important for you to see the skills your child is being assessed on for the second quarter. Please let me know if you have any questions.
- In religion this week we discussed how we can prepare for Jesus and talked about Saints. The All Souls procession was beautiful please take a few minutes to view the alter in the hallway.
- We have been focusing on story problems in math with simple addition and subtraction. We also completed our second unit in math. Please review the math assessment that came home today.
- Library is on Monday next week. Please return books on Monday if you haven't already.
- We will be working on memorizing the Hail Mary for the second quarter. You will find a copy of the prayer in the folder today.
- Book orders are coming home today. If you would like to order books as a gift please send an email and I will get the books to you when they come in.
- Thank you to all the parents that helped with the Halloween activities. It was enjoyed by all.

Enjoy the weekend, Mrs. Fairweather
