For the week of
December 19 -December 22

- Child of the Week this week was Olivia. If you haven't already heard Olivia and her parents brought in a life size, moving and talking R2-D2. This was super fun to see. Everyone enjoyed the treats, pictures and R2-D2.
- This week we talked about the "Letter Light A." A is a vowel in the middle of many words! We covered the at and an families.
- Red words for the week are: do and are. Check folders for our red words books. We will start fresh again in the New Year.
- In religion we continue to talk about the birth of Jesus. We read a number of books that share the story of Jesus' birth.
- Your child is bringing home new library books today. We will not have library again until the second week of the New Year so you have lots of time to read the new books.
- We had so many fun activities this week! We decorated Gingerbread houses, Santa visited our classroom, Mrs. Langdon provided a piñata for social studies class and we read our letters from Santa's elves. Many thanks to all the parents for bringing in the supplies that made the houses such a success. Houses are coming home today!
- See below for some fun pictures from Wednesday. 😊

Merry Christmas
