

Designs for Success: New Configurations for Catholic Schools

A perspective presented by
Twin City Catholic Educational System (TCCES)
April 2009

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification (2003-2005)

First Steps Toward Full Unification

- Hiring a president charged with overseeing the entire system
 - Creating a transitional board of education
 - Developing a preliminary advancement strategy
 - Hiring an advancement director

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification (2003~2005)

TCCES Mission Statement

The Twin City Catholic Educational System, in partnership with family, Church and community, provides a quality Catholic education focused on faith, academics, service and personal development from preschool through high school to influence a rapidly changing world.

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification (2003-2005)

Challenges...

- Gaining trust
- Empowering the Transition Board of Education
 - Parish subsidies
 - Working with two public school systems
- Addressing new financial issues that result from unification

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification (2003-2005)

...and more Challenges

- Combating rumors
- Balancing everyone's needs & wants
 - High school independence
- Encouraging Pre3-12 commitment
- Faculty transition to a “system mindset”

TCCES: Moving Toward Unification (1987~present)

Logos Through the Years

Original

2000-2003

2003-present

